

Aarav and the Star That Listens

A MoonBell sample story

Aarav reached up on tiptoe. "Star," he whispered, "can you really hear me?" The little star gave a wink, and leaned in close to listen.

So Aarav climbed the moonlit hill and asked his one small question.
High above, the golden bell rang the softest ring, as if the whole sky had been waiting to answer.

The End

This is a MoonBell sample. Your child's own story is next - moonbell.in